THE "KURT ADLER" COLLECTION OF RUSSIA

This is one of the most comprehensive collections of Russia ever formed and the magnitude is such that it was contained in 122 albums, most of which were extensively written-up. Mr. Adler, now retired, is a well-known figure in the field of opera, here and abroad. He was Chorus Master and a Conductor of the Metropolitan Opera in New York for more than 30 years and appeared as a guest artist in many cities throughout the world.

The collection was formed in a period of more than forty years and was devoted to a great extent to Russian Postal History. There are many covers which show the earliest recorded dates of use. There is a veritable host of Russian Military covers, used during Russia's participation in various wars down through the years.

An area of outstanding interest is in Russian stamps and covers used in other countries. Many bear the "ROPIT" postmark of the Russian Steamship Company operating in the Black Sea and Aegean area. There is a stupendous showing of covers used in Central Asia and in China. In fact the Adler collection was of considerable aid in the preparation of the Tchilinghirian-Stephen books on Russian issues used abroad. A number of the Adler covers are illustrated in the books and he was a silent collaborator in its preparation.

The stamps themselves are a comprehensive lot and many rare and unusual items are to be found. Certain areas of the collection are being offered intact so as to preserve the intensive research done by Mr. Adler. To comment on such an important and valuable collection is really futile. Only a study of the catalogue can demonstrate the magnitude and importance and we have prepared the catalogue so that it may attain future value as a reference work in these issues. The collection is truly a monument to Mr. Adler's abilities as a philatelic student in the issues of his greatest interest.

INDEPENDENT POLAND

Between the years 1772 & 1795 Poland lost its independence and was partitioned between Prussia, Russia and Austria.

Since this collection is devoted to Russia, the Polish postmarks are of the area under Russian control. Special mention however is made of the three covers used prior to partition. These are of particular rarity.

EARLY RUSSIAN POSTAL SERVICES IN ROMANIA AND BULGARIA

These nations were under Turkish rule but changes commenced in 1830 when Greece became independent. Romania gained full independence in 1861 while Bulgaria achieved principality status in 1878.

Russian postal service was maintained in this area. At the time of the Treaty of Adrianople in 1829, Russia held control of the Delta of the Danube and its principal city Ismail. Other Russian post offices were maintained in Bucarest, Galatz and Jassy.

Russian post offices were also maintained in the principal cities of Bulgaria.

All Russian post office uses in this area prior to independence from Turkey are very scarce and valuable.

RUSSIA

USED ABROADS AND FROM FOREIGN POST OFFICES

This is a most fascinating and extremely difficult area in Russian Postal History and the Kurt Adler Collection offers an extremely powerful showing. It is, without doubt, one of the most comprehensive presentations ever made and is noteworthy for the large number of covers of the highest order of rarity.

In preparing this portion of the collection for sale we have relied on the six-volume work on "Stamps of the Russian Empire, Used Abroad" by S. D. Tchilinghirian and W. S. E. Stephen, published by the British Society of Russian Philately.

Mr. Adler was a silent collaborator in the preparation of this comprehensive work for a number of the covers illustrated in the books are from the Adler Collection and are offered in this sale.

Our listings follows the Tchilinghirian books and we have used the published references to relative rarity in making our estimates of valuation.

We are proud to offer interested philatelists the opportunity to participate in the dispersal of one of the greatest collections in its field ever assembled.
